Testimonies

“It was fantastic! I had never heard of Success Stories before; I wish I had this information years ago. I learned more by writing examples. Loved the presentation - could listen to Karen for hours!”

R.S. - Melbourne

“The workshop exceeded my expectations. It was very informative and I now have a Success Story for a specific Y9 student. Writing our own story was invaluable”

D.B. Melbourne

Autism spectrum disorders (ASDs) are complex, lifelong developmental disabilities characterised by marked difficulties in social interaction and communication.

Every individual on the autistic spectrum has problems to some degree with social skills, empathy, communication, and the ability to be flexible.

A Success Story is a simple method that may be used to improve a child’s understanding of social situations in a non-threatening and reassuring manner and help him/her make a more effective response.

Workshop Content:

- What is Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) and what causes it - a brief outline
- How to gather evidence and informally assess individual pupils in the classroom
- How ASD affects a student’s understanding of social situations
- Success Stories:
- What they are
- How they can help students cope with social situations/changes in routines/new experiences/ self-care
- Knowing when to use them
- Rules for Writing and Using a Success Story
- Practical Tasks
- Useful Resources and Websites

This PD can be delivered as 3.5 or 3 hours.

Workshops can be tailored to individual school needs and can be offered all over Victoria for up to 50 members of staff.

About the presenter

Karen Starkiss

Karen brings over 30 years of experience as a teacher of primary and secondary students in the UK and therefore knows what to recommend and what is practical for teachers.

In England, she was principal of one of the top performing primary schools, despite the fact that she had the highest number of students with severe Learning Difficulties in the county. She has also worked in “failing” schools to quickly improve standards of teaching and learning and helped many schools audit their provision and become inclusive for students with LD.

In 2006 she moved to Australia where she has since established the Dyslexia Assessments and Support Services. Karen has wide experience in assessing dyslexic children, teenagers and adults for learning difficulties and is currently providing in-service professional development to schools regarding creating and implementing dyslexia-friendly schools as well as being part of a number of focus groups contributing ideas and suggestions to improve provision for children and adults with dyslexia and other LDs.

Karen has been interviewed by the Age and ABC radio about her expertise in dyslexia, has advised a government task force in Canberra about supporting children with learning difficulties and run training for school principals, teachers and classroom aides.

During 2013 & 2014 she worked with the education departments in the ACT and the Northern Territory to present a program to help schools become inclusive and accessible to all students; provided training for, School Principals, Expert and Lead teachers and professionals to enable them to implement the program in individual schools

In 2015 Karen was invited by the Wellbeing team at Department of Education and Training Vic to join the Learning Difficulties and Dyslexia Stakeholder Reference Group who advise about supporting schools to become diverse and inclusive for students with Learning Difficulties/Disabilities.
